Summative grades are assignments/assessments such as unit tests, projects, essays, research papers, and presentations which may integrate multiple standards. These grades reflect student mastery of standards after the learning activity is completed and count as 80% of each semester average.

Formative grades are assignments such as homework, class work, quizzes, drafts or portions of essays, projects, research papers, and presentations. They provide practice while learning. These assignments, observations, and conversations are used to inform both the teacher and student about the learning process and lead to potential success on summative assessments. They count as 20% of each semester average.

Work habits are behaviors that have the potential to increase academic achievement, promote lifelong learning, and foster personal accountability.

EOCT Course Grading Calculation:

Course Average = 40% (First semester) + 40% (Second semester) + 20% EOCT Score

Non-EOCT Course Grading Calculation:

Course Average = 50% (First semester) + 50% (Second semester)
